THE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

VIEWS FROM VARIOUS PEOPLE OF THE SOUTHLAND.

Good Roads an Object Lesson to Capitalist—Papers Helping Along the Cause.

The subject of good roads is just now a vital one to the people of Guilford county and the following from the New York Sun shows, to some extent the views of some of the people of other sections of the Southland on this subject:

Sentiment among the citizens of several of the Southern and Middle States, notably Louisiana, Mississippi, Illinois, and Tennessee, in favor of improving the highways, is just now at white heat. Under the direction of the National Good Roads Association mass meetings and conventions are held in many of the cities and towns, and the subject of good roads is discussed and dilated upon everywhere by champions of the move ment with earnestness and under standing. On the strength of the benefits which, unmistakably, have resulted from smooth and permanent highways wherever they have built, the good roads agents are striving to impress upon the people that the maintenance in their respective localities of roads that are sensibly, not to say scientifically,constructed is a duty they owe to themselves and to succeeding generations. The agitation certainly is producing important results.

Leading newspapers in the State mentioned are doing much to help along the work. The New Orleans Times-Democrat, for example, has printed a series of interviews with representative citizens in various parts of Mississippi and Louisiana, and they leave no doubt of the sincerity and vigor with which the good roads movement is conducted. We quote some extracts from interviews with residents in three large towns in Louisiana. A progressive land-holder says:

"It is for the agricultural interests to realize that they can haul twice as much of their products over a good road as over one poorly kept. I don't know anything better for this parish that the inauguration of a movement of this kind."

A prominent physician expresses himself thus:

"Good roads, like good schols, are the most inviting objects to immigration. Coupled with the fertility of our soil, goods roads will surely result in bringing hither capital and immigration."

A large Louisiana planter takes this view of the matter:

"Good roads are an object lesson to the capitalists, home seekers and man of moderate means. Wherever he sees good roads he is assured that it is a community in which he can safely invest, satisfied that he will have good schools, quick and easy transportation of produce to and from market, and everything that can be desired in an enlightened and Christian community."

Hhere are the opinions of a wide-awake farmer of the same state.

"There is no surer, safer or more expeditious way of building up and developing the resources of a country than by the construction and the maintenance of good roads. They will always invite the home seekers, as well as the capitalist, each of whom is assured of easy transportation to market for his produce, as well as of educational, religious, and other advantages incident to such a combination of happy circumstances."

A prminent lawyer and planter says:

"The absence of good roads frequently means a lower market when products reach their destination; loss and delay from the failure to receive articles prmoptly when needed, and a large loss resulting from the wear and tear of vehicles and horses and payment of increased time to teamsters."

We might go on quoting almost indefinitely similar opinions gathered by the Times-Democrat from citizens of Louisiana and Mississippi—municipal officers, bank presidents, clergymen, wholesela and retail merchants, farmers and others.

The good roads sentiment in the part of the country referred to has been greatly stimulated by the recent undertaking on the part of the National Good Roads Association and the Illinois Central Railroad, to run a train, specially equipped for practical road making, from New Orleans to Chicago. The "Good Roads Special," as it is called, has already given demonstrations in road building at New Orleans, Natchez and Vicksburg. It is now proceeding northward and is scheduled to stop at fifteen or more places before it reaches Chicago. At each place a specimen road at least a mile long will be constructed and left as an object lesson to people who would like to have open highways twelve months in the year.

AYERS SHOT BY MRS. BONINE.

MYSTERY SURROUNDING CENSUS CLERK'S DEATH CLEARED.

The Wife of a Drug Drummer Says the Cause of the Tragedy Was a Struggle Between Herself and Ayers for the Possession of a Pistol.

Washington,May, 20.—The mystery attending the killing of James Seymour Ayers, a census office clerk, in the Kenmore Hotel early last Wednesday morning and which because of the peculiar circumstances surrounding it has aroused Washington more than any tragedy in several years, was solved today by a voluntary confession from Mrs. Lulu I. Bonine, a married woman and a guest of the house, that the shots which ended Ayres' life had been fired in a struggle between herself and Ayers. Mrs. Bonine, whose husband is a drummer for the wholesale drug house of DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, explained her presence in Ayers' room at two o'clock in the morning by saying that he had come to her room complaining of a chill and asking for medicine and had induced her to follow him to his room to talk over some matters of difference there had been between them. She said that she dressed herself in a wrapper and went to his room. He had preceded her and when she opened the door and walked in he quickly closed it and informed her he had enticed her to the room for his own purpose and said that if she did not submit to his wishes he would kill her. Ayers, she said, was undressed, and had a revolver in his hand and in a struggle for its possession which ensued immediately after she entered, it was discharged three times, the shots striking Ayers at each discharge, the last one proving fatal.

After her sttement which was made to the chief of police and a number of other officials, Mrs. Bonine was placed under arrest and taken to the house of detention, where she will be held pending the result of the coroner's inquest, which has been in session since Saturday and at which Mrs. Bonine was to have appeared tomorrow as a witness. The tragedy which resulted in Ayers' death, was discovered first about 8:30 o'clock last Wednesday morning when his dead body was found in his room at the Kenmore, a small family hotel, situated not far from the capitol. An examination of Ayer's body showed that he had been shot three times, one ball entering the left thigh,another the left arm and the third entered the heart. Suicide was the first theory advanced but statements from two watnesses that they had seen a woman descending a fire escape leading from the front of Ayers' room at the hotel and disappear in the parlor of the house ended this theory and the killing quickly developed ito a mysterious and sensational affair that baffled the police until today.

Saturday the coroner began his inquet, but no substantial clue was found to connect any person specifically with the tragedy. The inquest was resumed today and had developed nothing directly bearing on the matter except that Mrs. Bonine was much in Ayers' room, when it was suddenly adjourned on information that the district attorney and others were wanted at police headquarters to hear a statement made by Mrs. Bonine.

Its substance, as related by Major Sylvester, chief of police, is as follows: Mrs. Bonine acknowledged that she was presentwhen the shooting occurred. She said that some time prior to March 4 there had been a disagreemnt between herself and Ayers and that their friendly relations had been broken until the morning before the tragedy when she became friendly with him again. She said she had no watch or clock to tell the time, but some time in the morning, presumably about two o'clock, Ayers knocked on her door. She opened it and he told her he thought he was going to have a chill and wanted to know if she had anything that would prevent it. She said that she thought she had some laxative quinine and went to her boy's room, adjoining hers, to get it. In the meantime he was standing in the hall. He was dressed in his pants, coat and undershirt. When she came back she said she could not find the quinine. Ayers threw his arm over her shoulder and asked her if she would come over to his room, where they would talk over their differences. To this she assented, saying she would as soon as she could dress herself. She had been in bed when he aroused her and went to the door in her night gown. Ayers left her and went back to his room. She dressed herself, putting on on all her clothes except her corsets, including a wrapper. She then went to his room, opened the door and entered. Ayers stood behind the door and as soon as she entered he slammed it and bolted the lock. He was attired only in his night shirt and had a revolver in his right hand. She was very much agitated and attempted to make a break toward the window to get out. He went over and threw his left arm around her, saying: "I guess you will listen to me now." Ayers still had the pistol in his right hand. She grabbed it with her right hand and threw it up and it went off. In the struggle which followed she got hold of the weapon with both hand. She does not know how many shots were fired and does not remember anything about what took place until Ayers fell over and against her and his blood spurted over her shoulder. Mrs. Bonine said it was she who cried for help and moaned.

MAN'S LIFE FOR A DOG'S

The Animal Sucked Eggs and Owner Defended It With Probably Fatal Results.

The Chodds' Ford, Pa., correspondent of the Phladelphia Record gives the result of shooting another person's dog as follows:

An egg-sucking dog was the cause of a serious shooting affray which occurred here yesterday evening, and which may result in the loss of a leg, and perhaps the life of Edwin J. Williamson, a wealthy farmer of Birmingham township. His nephew, Nathaniel Watkins, a young man about 25 years of age, who did the shooting is in the Media jail, held without bail for court, to await the result of his uncle's injuries.

The dog which caused the trouble belonged to Watkins and Williamson accused it of entering his chicken house and sucking eggs. On this account bad blood had existed between the men for some time.

Last evening Watkins saw his uncle with a gun, going in the direction of his chicken house, and, believing he was after the animal, seized his gun and started in the same direction, vowing, it is said, if his uncle shot the dog he would kill his uncle.

The animal soon came from the hennery, with Williamson in pursuit. Watkins ran towards him crying: "Don't you shoot that dog, or I will shoot you."

Williamson paid no attention to the threat, and fired. The first shot struck the animal, which ran yelping into the road. Williamson fired a second time and the animal dropped dead.

True to his words, young Watkins brought his gun to his shoulder and fired, but for the fact that Williamson dodged behind the fence he would have received the entire charge in his body. As it was only a few shot struck him.

He then started to run and Watkins fired the second charge. This struck his uncle in the lower part of the leg tearing the fleshy part almost away. Watkins then started in a run for his home, stating, it is said, "to get more cartridges and finish the job," but was restrained by those within.

The wounded man was assisted to Dr. Chandler's office, some distance away, and the wound dressed. He was then conveyed to Justice Joseph Shortlidge, where he swore out a warrant for his nephew's arrest.

Watkins was given a hearing and held without bail on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. He was brought to jail today. It is feared Williamson's leg will have to be amputated.

Childhood of Great Men.

Everybody's Magazine.

I na statistical investigation of the early life of fifty great men of the present century, it was found that while they are very strong in the things they are intrested in. In childhood they seem to be more imaginative than average children. It is generally said that a great man owes his success to his mother's influence, but there are many exceptions. They were influenced much by some one person, and the mother's place was often supplied by that of an aunt or relative. The child born of parents in the prime of physical life probably has the better chance of greatness, for the average age of the fathers when the great man-child was born was about thirty-eight, and that of the mother thirty. The average number of children in the family was six. Eleven of the great men were sons, and sixteen youngest sons: that is, in all over fifty per cent. If it is important to study the criminal to find the causes of crime and thereby know best how to prevent or lessen it, it is perhaps more needful to study great men in order to learn those conditions and characteristics which make them great.

Every woman starts out in married life with an idea that her "instinct" will always tell her when her husband is lying.

ECZEMA

Eczema sets the skin on fire. The acid poisons in the blood are forced out through the pores of the skin, causing intense redness, burning and itching. So terrible is the itching at times, especially when the body is overheated, that the almost distracted sufferer feels that he could tear the skin to pieces, and that he must scratch or go crazy. He knows from experience that this only makes matters worse, but, made desperate by the terrible burning and itching, he is for the time being indifferent to after effects. There are several forms of Eczema, the moist, or weeping kind, that comes in little pustules which discharge a watery, sticky fluid, which dries and peels off in bran-like scales. So profuse is the discharge at times that large scabs or crusts form, which are both painful and troublesome, and not easily removed. Red, disfiguring bumps and sores are symptoms of Eczema. The dry form usually attacks the head, hands and feet; the skin, becoming hard and rough, often cracking open and bleeding, and attended with much itching. Eczema depends upon a poisoned condition of the blood, and local applications, while soothing and cooling, and may to some extent relieve the inflammation and itching, cannot be considered cures, because external remedies do not reach constitutional or blood diseases. Salves, ointments, powders, lotions and soaps do more harm than good, by smearing over and sealing up the pores of the skin, thus forcing the poison back into the blood. S. S. S. antidotes and neutralizes the acid poisons and drives out of the circulation all impurities and humors, and the pure, rich blood that is carried to the diseased skin quickly allays the inflammation, opens the clogged up pores, and the skin becomes soft, smooth and ready to perform its proper functions. To be rid of Eczema you must first purify and build up the blood, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. S. S., the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. Send for our book on blood and skin diseases, and write our physicians for any information or advice you may desire. Medical advice and book free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Mr. L. Marno, Escondido, San Diego County, Cal., writes: "My body broke out with a rash or eruption which in spite of all efforts to cure continued to get worse. The itching, especially at night, was simply terrible; it would almost disappear at times, only to return worse than ever. I had tried many highly recommended preparations without benefit, and hearing of S. S. S. determined to give it a fair trial, and was inexpressibly delighted when a few bottles cured me entirely, removing every blemish and pimple from my body. I shall not fail to recommend S. S. S. whenever an opportunity occurs.

A Newspaper's Enemies.

Knoxville Sentinel.

The newspaper that makes no enemies isn't worth the paper on which it is printed. Every day there is published some thing in a real newspaper which some one for their own personal reasons would like to have left out. A newspaper may have a warm friend, a person who has been a friend for years, it may have done him 99 favors, but let it refuse to do him the hundredth, or let it say something which he thinks contrary to his interest, or tell the truth about him when he doesn't want the truth told, and that person becomes an enemy. He is very quick to forget the past, but he is very bitter about the present.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. 14.

No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.

MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

TUESDAY, MAY 21.

Our Elizabeth City correspondent seconded the Post's proposition that the Press Association met this year at Elizabeth City in his communication in yesterday's paper in most graceful terms; but so soon as we discovered that our excellent friend Colonel Osborn, the newly elected mayor of the Gate City, was after the boys, we felt sure he would win. He has a winning way of getting everything he goes after.

The boys may expect a royal time in Greensboro for they will surely have it. And their eyes will be opened, too, to the rapid development and bright prospects of this central city.—Raleigh Post.

And the brethren of the press will be shown that Greensboro knows how to take care of her friends and make them feel at home.

A Newark, Del., dispatch to the Philadelphia Record says:

For several weeks the inspectors of the electric light works have been puzzled to learn why lights in certain places on the streets would go out at nights.

They have solved the mystery for they have found the electric lamps were tampered with by young couples who desired to do their wooing on front porches without the glare of publicity.

The disadvantage of courting the girl of your heart on the front porch in the glare of an arc light, can be imagined, but the cure is a new one in these parts. If some of the electric lights go out after this Manager Marks will know what is the matter.

In another column an account is given of a possibly fatal shooting affray over an egg-sucking dog. probably a specimen of that breed commonly known as "cur." It is strange but true, that a man who is ordinarily slow to wrath, and not easily provoked, will fly off the handle in a minute if another man abuses his dog, no matter how sorry an animal the dog may be.

ALWAYS WORSE.

The Charlotte Observer, under the caption, "Is he as Bad as He Seems," writes thus of Senator Quay:

Tuesday night the Republican clubs of Philadelphia united in a dinner to Senator Quay, congratulatory of him upon his re-election. An enormous crowd was present, the enthusiasm was unbounded and the papers of Wednesday morning were full of the great event. The Record, which has been one of Mr. Quay's stoutest opponents commenting editorially upon the gathering and the demonstration, says:

When Senator Quay looked about him in the Academy of Music last evening he saw no unfriendly eye, heard no censorious phrase, felt no chill blast of reproach. Eloquent speakers voiced rare and fulsome tributes of adulation; life long personal friends swelled the chorus of flattering acclaim; public officers in high station and magnates of finance jostled each other in the long line of reception, while over all sounded with insistent clamor that hoarse, inarticulate welcome of the masses which public men in all lands best love to hear. There is, perhaps no other personality sypathetic enough to evoke the plaudits and inspired the enthusiasm of which Senator Quay was the centre on this memorable occasion. No matter what the future may have in store for the veteran political leader, he has experienced, for one day at least, the intoxicating and surpassing joy of undisputed primacy—he has been even as the gods. The world may whirl, the plotters may plot, and the people forget, but yesterday Senator Quay had his day of triumph.

It is all very strange. A large part of the country has been led to believe by what it had read and heard that Senator Quay is the incarnation of all that is evil; and yet there must have been in this great assemblage of his friends and fellow-citizens some good men, men who would be his supporters if he were wholly bad. Is this devil as black as he is painted? We read in this opposition paper from which we have quoted that "there is perhaps, no other personality in Pennsylvania strong enough and sypathetic enough to evoke the plaudits and inspire the enthusiasm of which Senator Quay was the centre on this memorable occasion;" and that over all the acclaim of personal friends, public officials and magnates of finance there "sounded with insistent clamor that hoarse, inarticulatewelcome of the masses which public men in all lands best love to hear." Is Pennsylvania entirely corrupt that its people of all classess should thus bow down before an arch corruptionists? It is inconceivable. Out of an abounding gratitude and charity we prefer to remember that Mr. Quay, when in the Senate before, was opposed to the force bill; to believe that some virtues remian to him and—that this devil is not as black as he has been painted.

We desire to inform the Observer that the fellow over the other side is always worse than he is painted, and it is only the weakness of our feeble pen that keeps him from getting his just deserts.

EYES AND SEE NOT.

Ninety-Year-Old Woman Who Had Never Heard a Band.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford, of near Frizellsburg, Pa., woh has just died at the age of 90, had the unique record of having seen less of the world than probably any other American woman.

She never saw a railroad track or train of cars, never entered church and never heard the music of a band. In fact, this peculiar woman never cared to go beyond the sight of the smoke of her own chimney.

Neighbors say she was very pious, and seemed to believe in contentment. Neither il-health or lack of means prevented her from seeing things, but she stayed at home simply to gratify a desire to have lived a singular life.

Ancient Pastimes.

Philadelphia Times.

In the Methodist conference in New York, a minister makes the statement that the restrictions of the church as to card playing and dancing keep the young women out, because the latter find these restrictions incimpatble with their chances of matrimony. It may be taken that he speaks from fair observation and his remarks are true.

Differences of opinion may exist as to the morality of card playing and dancing, but there is practically unanimity of opinion as to the propriety and morality, or even the extreme desirability of marriage. Under the circumstances it behooves the church to reconcile its tents with the pursuits of husbands, while not relaxing the moral bounds prescribed by its interpretation of the Scriptures.

Card playing and dancing are both very ancient pastimes; probably, indeed, they are almost as old as the institution of marriage.

There never was a house cleaning when a man didn't lose something that he had to go right off and buy another of.

It is on ly a step from curl-papers at the breakfast table to a combing-sack at luncheon and old shoes in the evening.

If they hadn't any neighbors to talk about probably all the frogs would learn to sing like canary birds.

We notice Messrs. W. G. Benefield & Co., the installment furniture people on South Elm street, have recently improved their place of business, and considerably increased their stock. Their terms are unusually liberal, and the home can be supplied with any kind of furnishings at their establishment.

Ferguson's Barber Shop is now located in the room recently occupied by W. B. Farrars' Son as a jewelry store. This is a good location and with the proper treatment which their shop guarantees, ought to insure a large patronage.

STANTON'S JUST FROM GEORGIA

BRET HARTE'S VIGOR.

Of Bret Harte a writer in The Book-Buyer says that it is not only in personal appearance that Bret Harte holds his own so magnificently; his latest work can be so measured by the standards, and shows the same living spark as of old, and we "still find in his work just such gennine, absorbing entertainment as that of the miners in the familiar poem:

" 'Perhaps 'twas boyish fancy,—for the reader
Was youngest of them all,—
But as he read, from clustering pine and cedar
A silence seemed to fall:

LITERATURE BY WEIGHT.

Writing from a north Georgia settlement a correspondent says:

"I have on hand 'bout five pounds of poetry, and a story which I think'll weigh 'bout ten pounds. If I send 'em on to you will you make a bid on 'em, an' let me know 'bout it right off?"

KENTUCKY FOLKS-LORE.

There are two very interesting articles in the current Journal of American Folk-Lore—"Witch-Finding in Maryland," and "Kentuck Folks-Lore." Here is a sample of the latter.

"Many of the negro superstitions are quite interesting. An old philosopher told me with great gravity; 'If you want pepper to grow you must git mad. My old 'oman and me had a spat and I went right out and planted my peppahs an' they come right up! Still another saying is that peppers, to prosper, must be planted by a red headed or by a high-tempered, person. The negro also says that one never sees a jay-bird on Friday, for the bird visits his Santanic majesty to 'pack kindling' on that day."

A LUCID EXPLANATION.

Being asked his age a colored citizen in a Billville district replied:

"Well suh, I some older than that pine tree yonder; I'll bit younger dan dat live oak by de gate, en not quite so ol' ez de house wnar I liv' at. I ain't much on figgers myse'f but ki count up en see!"

NEW WAY TO SUICIDE

Man in Atlanta Tries to End His Life by Butting a Brick Wall.

Atlanta Constitution.

Using his head as a battering ram, J. H. Plunkett, a white man, tried to butt down a brick wall at the corner of Edgeworth avenue and North Boulevard Saturday night late.

Plunkett would doubtless have killed not arrived in time to save him.

The man when found by the officer was covered with blood which flowed from the wounds on his scalp.

himself if Officer Coker and Dobbs had

The crazy man was handcuffed and taken to the police barracks, where he was locked up as a lunatic.

The man created great excitement on Edgewood avenue and North Boulevard Saturday night. He ran about yelling fire, and attempted to enter several houses. People locked their doors and windows and called for the police.

Some one in a store telephoned to to police barracks and Officers Dobbs and Coker responded on their wheels.

Plunkett by the time the officers arrived had decided upon suicide and he had se lected the novel and painful method of self-destruction by beating out his brains.

Last night the man was more quiet in his cell, but he talked wildly still. He said he lived at No. 156 Haynes St., but no prson at that address was found who knew anything about him.

It is possible that the man may have been drinking heavily and his insanity may be caused from a protracted spree. The police can find no one who knows him.

The Old Story.

Baltimore Sun.

There is oil in parts of Texas and money wil be made by the men who were fortunate in their investments. A dispatch from Beaumont, however, where there is oil land of fine quality, states that many investors will not find their holdings of stock or land as profitable as they expected. A number of small wells were over-capitalized, with the result that they will go dry before those who invested in them get a fair return on their money. The promoters who organized companies reaped a rich harvest, but of the speculators in oil stock, it is said, scarcely one in ten will have cause to rejoice over his investment. The big "gushers," as the large wells are called, are all right and will supply fuel oil for the market for years to come. Some wells described as "big gushers" have already ceased to gush and indications point to long intervals between the payment of dividends to stockholders. "Thousand and thousands of widows seamstresses, clerks, children and even domestics," it is stated in the Beaumont dispatch, "have poured their savings, and in not a few instances, money they could not spare into the treasury of some one or more of the oil companies here. * * * Nearly 300 oil companies have been organized in Texas in the past month and 60 per cent of them will never pay a dividend." The Beaumont writer says some of the promoters have "sore consciences." This will not help their victims, however. Evidently all the lambs are not shorn in Wall street. Boom towns, boom oil fields and boom indsutries have their victims as well as the New York stock brokers.

Can Frost be Abolished?

Everybody's Magazine.

As to other possibilities of the cannon, there is that of abolishing frost. Herbs and resinous wood are often burned so as to shelter the plants under a screen of smoke, but just a few nights ago the cannon were tried instead in the Beaujoloais. Two of them were apportioned to a hectare, about two and one-half acres, and they were fired horizontally about two yards over the fields. The ground was rendered damp and warm, though the surrounding soil was cold and frost-laden. But the most astonishing use of this artillery, has been found in Madagascar and Algeria—to fight grasshoppers. It is claimed that the shot cuts a discouraging swath in the invading swarms. And now the question is, what might it not do to a cyclone? There is serious food for reflection in that same question.

WOMAN

IS LIKE A DELICATE MUSICAL INSTRUMENT

In good condition she is sweet and lovable, and sings life's song on a joyful harmonious string. Out of order or unstrung, there is discordance and unhappiness. Just as there is one key note to all music so there is one key note to health. A woman might as well try to fly without wings as to feel well and look well while the organs that make her a woman are weak or diseased. She must be healthy inside or she can't be healthy outside. There are thousands of women suffering silently all over the country. Mistaken modesty urges their silence. While there is nothing more admirable than a modest woman, health is of the first importance. Every other consideration should give way before it. Bradfield's Female Regulator is a medicine for women's ills. It is the safest and quickest way to cure leucorrhea, falling of the womb, nervousness, headache, backache and general weakness. You will be astonished at the result, especially if you have been experimenting with other so-called remedies. We are not asking you to try an uncertainty. Bradfield's Regulator has made happy thousands of women. What it has done for others it can do for you. Sold in drug stores for $1 a bottle.

NAME FOR KODOL.

The only instance on record when a postoffice has been named after a paent medicine, was last year, when in Wetzel county, W. Va., a new postoffice was established and named Kodol, after the famous Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, manufactured by E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago. It had given such satisfactory results that the name was unanimously selected by the people for the new office and adopted by the department at Washington, D. C.

The first two years a woman is married she acts sorry for old bachelors; after that she spends the time feeling mad, imagining that they are acting sorry for her.

HOWARD GARDNER.

If people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or waterbrash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which, with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good.

PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION OPENS.

Dedication Day of the Great Six Months' Festival.

Wonderful Beauty of the Completed Work.

Color, Sculpture, Electricity, Fountains, Flowers and Festive Architecture—The Most Beautiful Exposition Ever Created—A Triumph of Artistic Endeavor—A Mammoth Show In Which the Practical Side Is as Well Cared For as the Artistic Features.

BUFFALO, May 20.—The dedication of the Pan-American Exposition today was performed in a manner befitting the great occasion, a large attendance testifying to the widespread interest in the mammoth enterprise. Fully 300,000 people were on hand to take part in the grand event. The day was made a civic holiday, and there was a general outpouring of people from cities and towns within 200 miles of Buffalo, both in the United States and Canada, by way of the 20 or more great lines of railway which center in this city.

The city was astir at an early hour to witness or participate in the programme. Mr. Louis L. Babcock was chief marshal, and the programme consisted of parades, ceremonies in the Temple of Music and special outdoor features. There were two separate and distinct parades—an Exposition parade and a concessionnaires' parade, leaving the City Hall at 10 a. m.

The Exposition parade consisted of the United States troops in this city, the Mexican National Band, a detachment of all arms of the Mexican army and other foreign troops in the city, the Fourth Brigade, N. G. S. N. Y., all under the command of General S. M. Welch, escorting carriages containing the Exposition officials and their specially invited guests.

The parade of the concessionnaires was participated in by all the concessionnaires. It was accompanied by 15 bands and was two miles in length, showing the wonderful features and interesting people of the Midway.

The ceremonies at the grounds consisted, first, of a grand flight of carrier pigeons freed on the Esplanade and conveying the news of the dedication of the Exposition to the world. The invited guests then proceeded to the Temple of Music, where the following programme was carried out under the direction of the Hon. John G. Milburn, president of the Pan-American Exposition:

Music by the Seventy-first Regiment Band, under the direction of Professor Fanciulli.

Opening prayer by the Right Rev. C. H. Fowler, bishop of the M. E. church.

Address by his honor Conrad Diehl, mayor of the city of Buffalo.

Poem written for the occasion by Robert Cameron Rogers.

"Salve Libertas," Sturm, by Buffalo Orpheus and Orchestra, John Lund conductor.

Address by the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, vice president of the United States.

Music.

Address by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

Poem written for the occasion by Frederic Almy.

Address by the Hon. Timothy L. Woodruff, lieutenant governor of the State of New York.

"America," by band, Orpheus and audience.

Benediction by the Right Rev. William D. Walker, bishop of western New York.

At noon there was an exhibition of scientific kiteflying by Mr. E. I. Horsman, scientific kite expert of New York, and his staff of kitefliers. This consisted of tandem kites and Eddy war kites, suspending the American flag and discharging American flags in the form of parachutes, others supporting a great banner bearing the word "Welcome," with others bearing different flags and streamers at various heights. There were also flown tandems of naval block kites and keel kites with flags and a tandem of yacht or ship kites.

At the close of the ceremonies in the Temple of Music there was a great display of day fireworks, including a grand salute of 125 aerial guns fired from steel mortars, the ascent of 27 large 12 foot gas balloons, each lettered with the name of one of the Pan-American countries and carrying the flag of the country; salute to the states, 46 mammoth cannon report rockets, one for each state of the Union, fired simultaneously; magnificent display of Japanese daylight fireworks, released in midair from Japanese bombs; oriental kite display, exhibiting 150 kites, from which will be displayed Pan-American flags and the New York State flag; daylight bomb cloud shells, setting free American and Pan-American flags, with souvenirs of the dedication day; simultaneous discharge of 1,000 small gas balloons, sent up in triplets, each bearing a souvenir of the dedication day; grand American salute, consisting of 500 large gun cotton rockets.

The completed Exposition is a distinct triumph in countless ways. Never before has there been such an effort put forth to produce rich decorative effects. These are to be seen in the symmetrical arrangement of the buildings around spacious courts, the glow of color upon all the buildings, the play of fountains and cascades, the profusion of blossoming flowers, the generous use of intricate molded ornaments upon the buildings, the great number of sculptured groups by famous American sculptors and at night the softly diffused yet brilliant lighting effects produced by means of more than 300,000 incandescent electric lamps upon buildings and throughout the grounds.

The grounds of the Exposition comprise some 350 acres, very accessible by steam and electric lines from all parts of Buffalo. When it is recalled that it was only the 4th day of last June that the first piece of timber was raised aloft as the beginning of what is now a magnificent Exposition city, one can but marvel at the executive force which has brought this work to its present state of completeness.

The cost of the Exposition as it now appears is approximately $10,000,000, exclusive of exhibits. Of this sum the Midway represents an expenditure of about $3,000,000. Nothing seems to have been forgotten in perfecting the plan, and there is every convenience for the visitor and an abundance for him to examine and enjoy. The admission price is the same as usual at expositions, half a dollar, but it entitles one to a full day at the most beautiful festival of the kind that has ever been brought into existence. No pen will be so presumptuous as to attempt to describe the architectural and color beauty of the Pan-American Exposition. It is a magnificent, an extravagant, dream brought to a harmonious and beautiful realization. The triumph of the architect, the colorist, the landscape architect, the sculptor and the electrician is complete.

There are about 150 buildings in the Exposition plot, of all sizes and descriptions, and an abundance for every one to see, no matter how long he may choose to remain. The most novel exhibits perhaps are to be found in the Electricity building, for in that particular science wonderful strides have been made within the last few years. Notably among these is the transformer plant, where 5,000 horsepower is received from Niagara Falls by cable at a pressure of 11,000 volts and stepped down to 1,800 volts. This power is used for lighting the vast Exposition area. A daylight brilliancy will pervade the Exposition until 11 o'clock each night. The exhibit of Street Railway appliances is also of a very complete and interesting character. The exhibit made by Thomas A. Edison, showing the development of many of his important inventions, constitutes another attractive feature. Demonstrations are to be made of Wireless Telegraphy and the X Rays. In the center of the Machinery and Transportation building is a working exhibit of a large number of Pumping Engines. These supply the water for the various fountain features of the Exposition. Among these water displays is a cascade in the southern face of the Electric Tower, from which there is a flow of 35,000 gallons of water per minute, making a beautiful veillike cataract 70 feet high. Upon this cataract electric lights of many colors will be thrown from an invisible source, producing an enchanting picture.

One of the most imposing buildings of the Exposition is the great Stadium. This is more than 60 feet high and is so large as to inclose a quarter mile track. The seats are arranged in the form of a vast amphitheater, and the capacity is sufficient for 12,000 spectators. This is to be the scene of very interesting events daily throughout the Exposition.

The Midway is said to be the greatest that has ever been organized for any exposition. The Midway proper is 3,000 feet long, thus giving more than a mile of frontage upon this singular thoroughfare. There are about 40 shows, every one of them possessing special merit and selected from a large number offered. There has been great rivalry among show people to secure space upon the Midway, and it has been allotted with great care and with the positive assurance that every feature would be of a character to command popular interest.

It may be said of the whole Exposition that in every department it is a compact yet complete presentation of Twentieth Century civilization of the Western World.

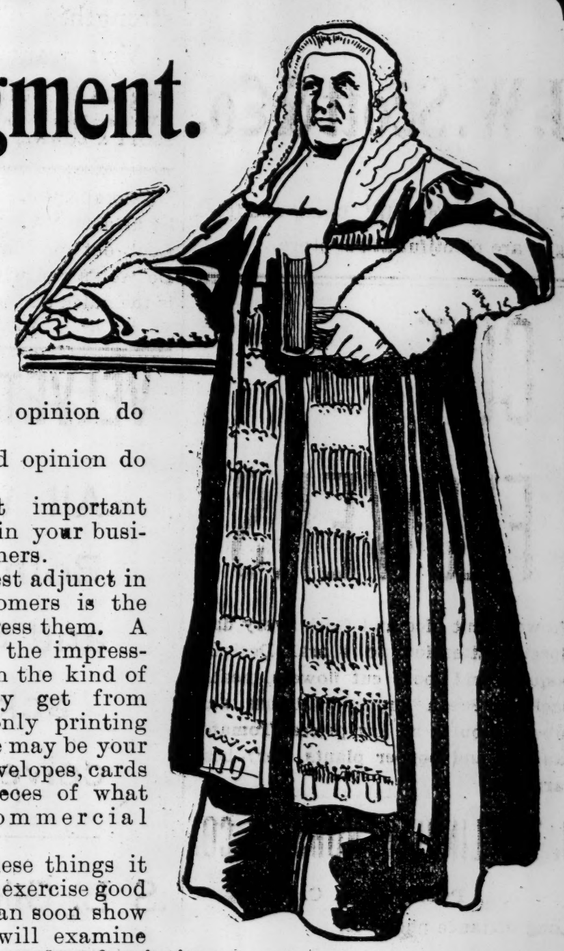
Judgment.



Whose bad opinion do you fear?

Whose good opinion do you want?

The most important thing to you in your business is customers.

The strongest adjunct in making customers is the way you impress them. A large part of the impressing is done in the kind of printing they get from you. The only printing that you have may be your stationery, envelopes, cards and other pieces of what are called commercial printing.

Even in these things it is possible to exercise good taste, as we can soon show you if you will examine some of our samples of printing.

If you advertise, if only to the extent of a small folder or an occasional booklet, you should anticipate and discount the judgment of your customers by laying before them printing that is refreshing, distinct. original, clean and direct.

There are all kinds of printing in every town.

There is only one good kind.

One piece of good printing is worth a hundred pieces that are fair to middling.

You cannot afford to do anything but the best. Therefore, you cannot afford not to know our ways and our prices.

Will you come to us, or shall we go to you?

NEATLY TRAPPED.

Two White Men Wanted for Some Time at Police Headquarters are Caught.

Some time ago two white men, John Merrill and Frank Jordan by name, created a disturbance in the eastern part of the city by tearing down the doors of a house in that locality, and otherwise disarranging the dwelling, after which they skipped out. Yesterday afternoon they were passing by the same house, when the inmates invited them in. The invitation was accepted, but as soon as they had entered a messenger was sent for an officer. Officers Merritt and Barnes went down and captured the couple without difficulty, and a chagrined looking pair they were when they realized the ruse that had been played upon them.

A MONSTER BERRY.

Mammoth Strawberry Grown in Greenscoro—Measures 2 1-2 Inches in Width Each Way.

Mr. S. L. Trogdon was exhibiting a strawberry this morning that was ahead of anything seen on the market ina long time. The berry was 2 1-2 inches in width, measured 2 1-2 in. either way, and was perfectly ripe. The chickens had gotten sight of the berry before Mr. Trogdon did, and had picked a portion of it away. The name of the berry is the Clyde, and it was introduced here by Mr. John A. Young.

For Using Bad Language.

Richard Jones, a negro fresh from thecounty roads, was indulging in a flow of language on he streets yesterday, and was nabed by Officer Merritt. He was fined in the mayor's court yesterday afternoon five dollars and the costs. Not being able to pay the fine he will probably be returned to the roads.

Robert McNairy, also colored, was engaged in a like pastime of filling the air with unbecoming words, and was taken in by Officer Barnes. Being too drunk yesterday to appear before the mayor, he was remanded to jail and his case will come up this afternoon.

The difference between a lazy man with good intentions and a watch without a spring is that the watch may be fixed.

E. corner, thence southwardly with said Hanner line (formerly Hodgin line) one hundred and twenty-two (122) feet to a stake.
